

Film Heritage: Access, Exhibition and Distribution in the 21st Century

European Film Gateway News Alert

The Association of European Cinematheques (ACE) will hold its annual workshop at the Cinema Ritrovato Festival in Bologna on 25 June 2019. Titled Film Heritage: Access, Exhibition and Distribution in the 21st Century, the workshop will touch on digital services that ACE or its members have initiated, such as the European Film Gateway and the I-Media-Cities portal and use those as a starting point for a wider discussion on best practices of making cultural heritage available online, identifying aspects that can help both to improve disseminate cultural heritage in general as well as to stimulate the declaration of orphan works in order to make them visible online.

The workshop keynote will be presented by Nina Goslar from ZDF/Arte. Her talk will address ways in which broadcasters, and ARTE in particular, can collaborate with archives, to help works from archival collections connect with the public.

More information about the workshop at ace-film.eu